MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

I hope everyone had a Happy Easter. Many thanks to the members who attended the Annual Corporation meeting. I would like to thank the members for re-electing me to the Board. We have an excellent Board to lead us through 2016.

I certainly look forward, with the help of the Board and the membership, to build on the programs here at Dom Polski. It is through these programs that make Dom Polski a driving force in our Polish community. I believe we are heading in the right direction and with the help of ALL members Dom Polski will remain a robust and growing entity.

Feel free to have family, birthday and anniversary parties in the club lounge. If your gathering will be large, please notify the lounge in advance so we can make sure that the lounge is adequately staffed.

If you haven't already please take care of your 2016 assessment. Being in good standing allows you access to the lounge and retains your voting rights.

Let's all work together to keep Dom Polski moving forward!

Anne Bobalik

POLISH THEATRE PROGRAMS

Theatre of the Eighth Day (Teatr Osmego Dnia) was founded in 1964 and soon became one of the most significant alternative student theatre troupes in Poland. Its name derived from the Polish poet K. I. Gaczkynski, who wrote the "On the seventh day, the Lord God rested, and on the eighth, He created theatre." For 25 years and despite constant surveillance by the secret police and government censorship, Theatre of the Eighth Day managed to create some of the most important works for the Polish stage. The company, which is based on Poznan, is recognized as a leader among Polish alternative theatres.

The University of Michigan - Ann Arbor sponsors various Polish Theatre Programs throughout the year.
